This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CITY OF CHARLESTOWN.

In the Year One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty.

AN ORDINANCE

TO ESTABLISH A PUBLIC LIBRARY IN THE CITY OF CHARLESTOWN.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Charlestown as follows:

SECTION 1. A Public Library is hereby established in the City of Charlestown, under the provisions of the Act of 1851, chap. 305.

SECTION 2. There shall be chosen during the month of May or June in the current year, and annually in the month of January thereafter, by concurrent vote of the two branches of the City Council, one member of the Board of Aldermen, three members of the Common Council, one from each ward, and five citizens at large, to constitute a Board of Trustees for the Public Library, who shall hold their offices until others are chosen in their places, and any vacancy in said Board shall be filled by the City Council as aforesaid. The office of Trustee shall be honorary, and no member of the Board shall receive any compensation for his services.

SECTION 3. The persons so chosen shall meet and organize themselves into a Board by the choice of one of their number as President, and they may make such rules and regulations for their own government, and in relation to subordinate officers by them appointed, as they may deem expedient.

SECTION 4. The said Trustees shall have the general care and control of the Public Library, and of the expenditure of all moneys appropriated therefor; they may make such rules and regulations in relation to the same, and may appoint a Librarian, and such subordinate officers, as they may consider necessary and expedient, define their duties, and may fix their compensation, provided that the total expenditure for the same shall not exceed the sum appropriated therefor by the City Council: but the provisions mentioned in this and the preceding sections shall at all times be subject to any limitations or restrictions by the City Council.

SECTION 5. The said Trustees, on or before the fifteenth day of November annually, shall present to the City Council a report containing a statement of the condition of the Library, the number of books that have been added during the past year, with an account of all receipts and expenditures, together with such information or suggestions as they may deem important.

SECTION 6. No payment of money shall be made on account of the Library, except by order of the Board, and in pursuance of a warrant signed by the President.

SECTION 7. A letter of acknowledgment, signed by the President and countersigned by the Librarian, shall be promptly returned to each person making a donation to the Library.

SECTION 8. In prescribing the regulations relative to the care and use of the books, it shall be the duty of the Trustees to adopt such measures as shall extend the benefits of the institution as widely as practicable throughout the community.

In COMMON COUNCIL, June 4, 1860.

Passed to be ordained, and sent up for concurrence.

WARREN RAND, President pro tem.

PREFACE.

THOUGH Charlestown has had the benefit of reading rooms, lyceums, the libraries connected with the public schools and the churches, and formerly the Union Library, yet it has had no public institution combining the advantages of an Athenæum.

The act of the Legislature of 1851 invited towns and cities to multiply public libraries; and the annual address of the Mayor, in 1853, urged the establishment of an institution in the city that might combine the Public Library, Reading Room, Museum and Lectures. It was remarked that such an institution — an Athenæum — "might be a general favorite; where wealth might see a worthy object on which to bestow its favors; where citizens might resort for intellectual gratification or improvement; where the sons of Charlestown might delight to bring, from other lands, objects of interest or of curiosity; and where, last, but not least, the stranger might be invited to behold, at the base of Bunker Hill, memorials of the times which the great monument commemorates. Such an institution would be a perennial source of pleasure and benefit — a perpetual benediction to our citizens."

The petition of James Hunnewell and seventy others, dated January 20, 1853, was presented to the City Council, praying for the establishment of a Public Library. In addition, Mr. Hunnewell, in a letter to the Mayor, dated January 24, 1853, made the liberal tender of fifteen hundred dollars in aid of founding a Public Library, an Athenæum, or by whatever other name such an institution might be called. Hon. G. Washington Warren also tendered the sum of five hundred dollars, to be paid whenever the City Council should set apart the lower story of the High School building for a Public Library; others, however, remonstrated against such a location.

These communications were referred to the committee on Public Instruction, who, with a report that was printed concurring in the value of a Public Library, submitted an ordinance to establish one, and recommended an appropriation of one thousand dollars in aid of it; but declined to advise the use of the High School building. The Report says, "as there was no public building in the city which would allow the accommodation of a Library, the committee recommended a room in the City Hall." The ordinance passed the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, but failed of concurrence in the Council; and, on the 24th of January, 1855, Mr. Hunnewell, having received no communication in regard to his offer, withdrew it.

The recent erection of the Banking House of the Warren Savings' Institution suggested a suitable place for a Public Library; and, at a meeting of a few gentlemen at the office of this institution, Timothy T. Sawyer, Edwin F. Adams, Nathan A. Tufts and Edward Lawrence agreed to subscribe for this object five hundred dollars each, provided the City Council would establish it.

This proposition was communicated to members of the City Council; and Alderman Caldwell, March 12, 1860, offered an order to the effect that the committee on ordinances be directed to report an ordinance establishing a Public Library, which passed both branches of the City Council. In the appropriation bill, passed April 24, 1860, was the following item: — "For the foundation and commencement of a Public Library, $1000; and the further sum of $1000, not to be expended until the four thousand dollars in money, books, or property be raised by general subscription towards the same." And this action was followed by the passage, June 5, 1860, of the ordinance establishing the Library.

The City Council elected a Board of Trustees, June 29, 1860, who, on the 5th of July, 1860, held their first meeting, elected Hon. Timothy T. Sawyer, President, and Moses A. Dow, Secretary, and appointed a committee to present the subject of a Public Library to the citizens. This committee invited a number of gentlemen to meet the Trustees on the 18th of July, at the room of the Common Council, when further subscriptions were added to sums originally pledged, and a committee was appointed to solicit the citizens generally for subscriptions to reach the sum named in the vote of the City Council. The following was the form of the subscription: —

Digitized by Google

The subscribers hereby agree to contribute in money or books towards the establishment of a Public Library the sums set against their names; the money to be expended in the purchase of Books to be kept in some suitable place within the present limits of the city of Charlestown, and at the expense of said city, and to be for the use of all the citizens, under such restrictions as may be necessary for the care and preservation of said books, and subject to such regulations as may be deemed needful by a Board of Trustees, to be annually chosen by the City Council of said city, for the management of said Library.

The first annual report of the Trustees was made November 15, 1860, when the requisite sum needed to found the Library had not been quite reached. On the 28th of January, 1861, the Trustees notified the City Council that $4,307 50 had been subscribed; that they had engaged the rooms now occupied in the Warren Savings' Bank building; had made arrangements for a list of books, and could proceed with the work whenever the City Council provided the means. Upon which the City Council, Jan. 28, 1861, passed the following vote: —

Ordered, That the subscriptions made by sundry persons towards the establishment of a Public Library, amounting to $4,307 50, be accepted by the City Council, upon the terms and conditions set forth in the subscription paper, a copy of which accompanies the report made to the City Council this day by the Trustees of the Library, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to collect the same and hold it subject to the order of the Board of Trustees of the Library, who are to expend it in accordance with the conditions in said subscription paper.

The second annual report, a printed document, dated November 15, 1861, specifies in detail the progress of the work. In addition to the funds of the Library, four hundred and twenty-six dollars are acknowledged from the old Charlestown Lyceum, making, of subscription and appropriations, a total of $6,743 with which to found the Library. There was in addition an appropriation of the City Council of $1,200 to support the Library for 1861. Of the sum of $4,307 50, five hundred dollars were subscribed for in books. The total amount which has been expended for books is $4,698 20.

The Library was opened on the 7th of Jan., 1862, and during the first month ninetee- hundred and ninety-four names were entered on the ledger. No account was kept this month of the books delivered, but about five thousand volumes were taken out. Up to the 16th of August, the rules and regulations had been signed by 3319 individuals, who, since the fifth of February, 1862, had taken out 45,064 volumes, making a total of fifty thousand books delivered since the foundation of the Library. Of these, three books were burnt in a fire on Medford street, and four only are missing.

The Trustees, with means quite inadequate to procure such a Library as they desired, placed on the shelves a selection of popular but substantial books to meet the wants of general readers; and such works of a standard character, more costly and more especially for reference, as the funds warranted. This catalogue has been faithfully prepared by the Librarian, in the simplest form for use. Each work has been catalogued under its author and its subject. The Trustees have regretted their inability to make a fuller show under subjects of interest and importance, so that the selection might present the richness and solidity that characterize a complete library; but the only remedy must be in the future liberality that may increase the funds of the institution, and thus add to its usefulness. The Public Library ought to be considered as a part of the permanent educational force of the city, and most worthy to be cherished.

In the selection of the books and the revision of the proofs the Trustees have had the aid of the accomplished Librarian of the Boston Athenæum, Mr. William F. Poole.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Art. I.

The Rooms shall be open from 9 o'clock A. M. to 12 M., from 2 to 5, and from 6½ to 9 P.M., on all secular days throughout the year — except that the Library shall be closed on Tuesday and Friday evenings, on the legal holidays, and such days as the Trustees may designate immediately before the annual examination of the Library, on the last secular day of August.

Art. II.

The following persons shall be entitled to the use of the Rooms, and to borrow books from the Library for home use, upon signing a promise to obey its Rules and Regulations: —

1. All inhabitants of Charlestown above the age of sixteen years, known to the officers of the Library as proper persons to enjoy its privileges, or so recommended by some responsible citizen, who shall thus make himself liable for any loss resulting therefrom.

2. All clergymen and teachers having regular occupation in the city; all members of the High School, and such scholars of the Grammar Schools as may be recommended by the sub-committees of said schools, and approved by the Trustees.

3. Any other inhabitant of Charlestown, depositing the value of the volume asked for, if permitted to circulate (or of the set to which it may belong), for which a receipt will be given; which sum shall be repaid whenever the book and receipt are returned, after any fines incurred for injury to the book or its improper detention have been deducted.

Art. III.

Every person entitled to borrow books from the Library shall receive from the Librarian a printed card, on which the book asked for shall be designated by its catalogue number, in blanks left for the purpose; and this card must always be presented to the Librarian or his Assistants, as the only mode of obtaining any book from, and returning any book to the Library. If the card is presented for a book and the book is not to be found, the card will be returned for the applicant to insert other numbers. A list of all persons entering their names for the purpose of borrowing books shall be kept in the Library, the residence of each individual, and the page where the loans are recorded, being inserted against the name.

ART. IV.

No person shall be allowed to borrow for home use more than one volume in any one day, or to have out of the Library more than one volume at a time; and no book shall be retained by the person borrowing it more than fourteen days. Nor shall the person returning a book be at liberty to retake the same until the next day. The fine for retention of any volume over the time specified shall be two cents for every day it is so retained.

ART. V.

When any book, on account of its great popularity, is likely to be frequently called for, the time of its retention from the Library may be limited to one week, or half a week, the time of its retention being made conspicuous on its cover; and if such book is retained beyond the specified time, the person so retaining it shall pay the same fine as is provided in Article Fourth.

ART. VI.

Any book retained two weeks beyond the time prescribed by these regulations, shall be sent for by the Librarian, and the expense incurred in obtaining it shall be paid by the person who has so retained it.

ART. VII.

All borrowers of books shall give notice to the Librarian of any change in their place of residence.

ART. VIII.

All injuries to books, beyond a reasonable wear, and all losses, shall be made good to the satisfaction of the Trustees of the Library by the person liable; and any book not returned within one week after demand has been made for it by the Librarian shall be regarded as lost.

ART. IX.

All books are required to be returned to the Library fourteen days before the Annual Examination in August, under penalty of a fine of One Dollar; but seasonable notice shall be given by the Librarian.

ART. X.

No person having a book from the Library shall lend it to any person not a member of the same household.

ART. XI.

No person owing a fine or forfeiture shall receive books from the Library until the same is paid.

ART. XII.

All persons visiting the Library Rooms will be required to demean themselves quietly; and no conversation will be allowed in the room.

Any person abusing the privileges of the Library, by improper or offensive conduct, will be denied admission to the Library Rooms.

ART. XIII.

Persons entitled to the privileges of the Library may receive books for consultation while the room is open, and the Librarian shall enter all books thus withdrawn, and erase the entry when they are returned. If any person neglect to return any book to the Librarian, he shall pay the same fine that would be charged for a week's detention over the time prescribed by the Regulations.

ART. XIV.

Books of Reference, and those deemed by the Trustees unsuitable for general circulation, shall not be loaned, except by an order signed by, at least, two of the Trustees.

READING ROOM.

ART. I.

All books belonging to the Library may, at the discretion of the Librarian, be used in the Reading Room — a discretion which he is required by the Trustees to exercise, especially in the case of minors, and in regard to books of great value or rarity.

ART. II.

Every person who may visit the Reading Room shall return each of the pamphlets and periodicals such person may have used to its proper place, and shall return each of the books used to the Librarian.

ART. III.

All conversation, and conduct inconsistent with the quiet and orderly use of the Reading Room by the persons resorting to it, are prohibited.

ART. IV.

Any person abusing the privileges of the Reading Room by unbecoming conduct, or by the violation of any of the regulations, shall be reported to the Trustees as soon as may be, and by them excluded from the Room for a time or permanently, according to the nature and degree of the delinquency or default; but in case of any gross offence, the Librarian shall act summarily in the matter, and cause the offender to be at once expelled from the Room, reporting the case to the Trustees as soon as possible in writing, for their final decision.
